

Urban Glamour

Living in the city has taught you a few things. You're well educated on how to layer without looking bulky during those winter months. You've just received a most coveted invitation to the grand opening of a funky new art gallery and you know just what to wear. A solid basic with a high-low hem and long sleeves will keep you warm and look cute. A fire engine-red jean is just the dramatic pop of color you'll need to stand out in a sea of black. The piece de resistance is a sumptuous faux rabbit-fur vest that will make you the envy of the room. Nothing is more festive than rich velvety wedges with chic ankles traps. A sleek clutch wallet with zip accents lends an edgy vibe and is perfect for holding the basics you'll need for the evening. Top off your outfit with a touch of elegance by adding a tasteful gold and silver-tone chain necklace. You'll look just as glamorous as the artists themselves. Who says you have to paint or draw to create art?